How to Play Fortune Gems 3 — Lines, Splits and the Multiplier Reel

> Fortune Gems 3 is a 3×3 slot from JILI with one extra reel on the right: you choose a bet, spin, and three matching symbols on any of five fixed lines pay — doubled or tripled by split symbols, then multiplied by whatever the Win Multiplier reel stops on.

Questions people ask

What are the five Fortune Gems 3 lines? The lines are fixed — you cannot switch any of them off, and every spin plays all five.

What does each symbol pay? The rules print payouts at a bet of 20, and the paytable is dynamic: change the bet and every figure moves in proportion.

How do split symbols work? Each symbol has its own split version, shown as two or three copies in one cell. A split of 2 gives the line a 2x split multiplier, a split of 3 gives 3x, and the splits on one line multiply each other. The rules' own example is 2 × 3 × 1 × odds — double, triple, single.

What changes with Extra Bet? The EX switch costs an additional 50% of your bet and raises the chance of a high multiplier symbol on the fourth reel. Line pays stay those of your normal bet — the rules write it as play amount × odds ÷ (5 × 1.5), and the extra half cancels out. You can change the bet and the mode at any time between spins. With Extra Bet on, the highest bet is 1,500 instead of 1,000.

What are the limits and the maximum win? 10,125x is five lines × the wild's 5x × three triple splits (27) × 15x. When a round reaches it, the round ends and the win is paid. If the game malfunctions, the rules void the affected pays and plays; if your connection drops after the bet is accepted, the result stands.

How are Fortune Gems 2 and 500 different? They are separate games in the same JILI series and sit side by side in most lobbies, which is why searches mix them up. Each version sets its own fourth reel, symbols and limits, so the figures on this site — and the practice reels — are Fortune Gems 3 only. Before you stake on 2 or 500, open the (i) rules button inside that game and read its paytable the way this page reads the 3's.
